

10 WAYS TO MAKE TIME FLY

1 Get spoilt

After completing immigration and health procedures at your Bangkok airport, you will be met by our representative and whisked away to the hotel in a private car. The same impeccable service continues at the hotel at one of the most exclusive addresses in Bangkok.

2 Eat like royalty

With chefs from our Michelin Plate and award-winning restaurants whipping up delicious meals for you 24/7, fill your days with sumptuous food served on fine porcelain.

3 Find the perfect diet for you

Always wanted to try keto or go vegan? All your dietary preferences and requirements are catered for, just say the word.

4 Get a health check

Leading healthcare providers from Bumrungrad International Hospital will be checking on you every day. You will leave very healthy indeed.

5 Schedule a Netflix marathon

With every show you've been meaning to watch at your fingertips, this is the perfect time to indulge in binge-watching.

6 Be very lazy

Your room has every conceivable modern convenience, is beautifully appointed and stuffed with luxury amenities. Just relax and enjoy it all.

7 Get really fit

Rent some jumping ropes, a treadmill or yoga mat, and prepare for a quick-fire challenge of body and mind. Set up an in-room gym and get in shape.

8 Brush up on current affairs (or your language skills)

Scroll through 64 international and local news, music and entertainment channels to stay up to speed on world affairs, or indulge in foreign movies for inspiration to learn a new language.

9 Take a walk

Once you've tested negative for the second time, enjoy a daily 1-hour walk in the tropical garden setting of the swimming pool, or just laze in the winter sun.

10 Be a planner

Your luxurious accommodation comes with a complimentary voucher for a two-night stay in a Suite at Anantara Siam. Start planning now to make sure you make the most of it.

ASQ guest testimonial

We spent 15 days in ASQ quarantine at the Anantara Siam with two little boys ages 4 and 3. Got two adjoining deluxe rooms. You can't leave the room for the first seven days so you better hope the food is good. It's not just good, it's amazing. An eight page menu and endless permutations of what's on offer to make it more kid-friendly or just to change it up (aka teriyaki salmon rice bowl w/ roe turned into a salmon filet dish with steamed broccoli). No alcohol will be served to you, so be prepared for that! If you need a junk food fix, the concierge will walk over to the 7-11 and pick you up gummies, peanuts, non-alcoholic beer, etc. the staff is super friendly, knew our boys names (and even delivered them four ice creams when our three year old prank called the desk while i was in the shower). after a week you get an hour outside by the pool...but you can't go in the pool so it's a bit of a let down. most people just walk laps around it. rooms had nice big tubs and lots of non-bed space for kids to play. very much recommend to others who need to do 15 days of quarantine with kids.
